

Molly Sorg Joins Vistra Energy as Vice President of Investor Relations

DALLAS – Vistra Energy, the parent company for TXU Energy and Luminant, today announced that Molly Sorg has joined the company as vice president of investor relations. In this capacity, Ms. Sorg assumes responsibility for all aspects of the company’s investor relations program, including a role as the principal contact with the investment community.

Curt Morgan, Vistra Energy’s chief executive officer, commented, “Molly’s unique and diversified background, including her prior experience providing tax and investor relations support to TXU Energy and Luminant, will serve as a valuable foundation as she leads our communications efforts with the broader investment community. Her skills will provide tremendous value to Vistra Energy as we refine our value proposition and prepare in earnest for our responsibilities and commitments as a stand-alone, publicly traded entity. We are delighted to welcome Molly to the team, and we look forward to her leadership role advancing our investment value and overall potential.”

Ms. Sorg brings a diverse combination of industry and functional experience to her role, including an earlier stint as director of investor relations at Vistra Energy’s predecessor company, Energy Future Holdings. Most recently, she served as assistant general counsel at Hunt Utility Services, where she supported a development team on efforts to commercialize new transmission projects in Arizona and New Mexico. She has also served in a business development capacity at Indiana University Health and as an associate at two global law firms, Vinson & Elkins, LLP and Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom, LLP.

Ms. Sorg earned a Bachelor of Science in accounting and finance from Indiana University’s Kelley School of Business in 2003 and a Juris Doctor from the Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law in 2008.
